Overview

In most cases, containers are delivered within 5 to 10 business days after full payment confirmation. How we achieve this: Immediate dispatch to the nearest available depot to reserve your unit. To explore these issues, the U. Postal Service Office of Inspector General (OIG) organized the country into High Density, Medium Density, and Low Density areas based on specific characteristics, such as delivery point density. We examined operational challenges and package volume trends primarily. Delivery and Offloading: The container is driven to your site and offloaded—hopefully without any drama. The more you prepare in advance, the smoother this critical final step will go. PODZILLA will need a total clearance area of 12 ft. To get started, request a free quote from us.
